PREFACE

Thanks to Allah, The Almighty, for I'd finished editing a book titled 'Making Sense of Functional Grammar' written by the twain Linda Gerot and Peter Wignell, without any meaningful handicaps.

Published and distributed by Antipodean Educational Enterprises in Australia, the original versions of this book are still difficult to find in Bekasi.

Since the materials of this book are very useful for secondary schools teachers and students, I decided to rewrite this book in an edited form, special for the limited Educational Community of STKIP Panca Sakti Bekasi.

Moreover, many reading materials are presently being some trends of genre. Meanwhile, the knowledge of the secondary schools teachers about genre itself is merely on the surface. In fact, as an iceberg in the ocean, there are much bigger things in the depth to master.

That's why, the students of STKIP Panca Sakti Bekasi have to know more about functional grammar, which – of course – is the most salient factor of genre identification. Thus, the students of STKIP Panca Sakti Bekasi are to be the pioneers of the meaningful understanding of genre. They must not know merely on the surface, but also deeply understand the processes of producing the identification from beneath, the disappearing iceberg. Not having the formers of this kind of way, the knowledge about genre will remain like this.
